

Quality Insights for Suppliers

Quality. Freshness. Value.

The iFoodDS Quality Insights Solution for Suppliers is a simple yet powerful tool for grower-shippers and processors. Automate inspection processes and standardize quality across multiple growers, harvest crews and farm locations. With our solution, you can deliver crew and grower scorecards that provide data-based feedback. This enables you to collaboratively improve quality and increase price averages. Reduce rejections and feel confident the produce you are supplying to your customers will meet their expectations, resulting in a higher ROI and stronger supplier-retailer relationships.

Objectively score product quality

Use data to make informed decisions

Improve incoming product consistency and pay based on quality received

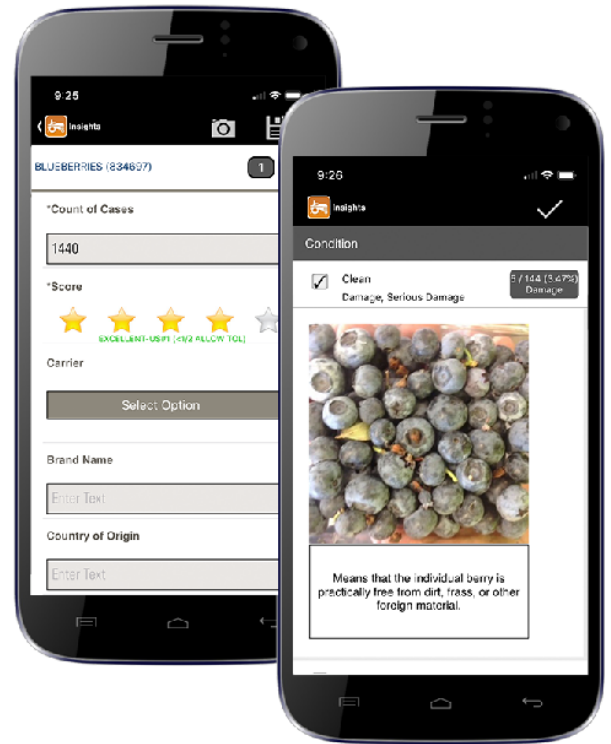

Raise the Bar on Your Quality Program

- Record quality ratings and specific defect rates as products arrive from the field.
- Upload and record images instantly and associate records with shipping information.
- Score and benchmark harvest crews and growers, tracking their quality over time.
- Consistently ship produce that meets the quality specifications of your customers.

Use Data to Collaborate with Growers and Customers and Improve Your Bottom Line

- Help growers and harvest teams better understand areas to improve relative to their peers.
- Communicate quality data to retail customers with objective reports.
- Identify patterns and trends to understand how quality varies during a season.
- Make informed decisions that improve quality and increase price averages.
- Adjust growers' compensation based on the quality they deliver.

iFoodDS also offers a Shelf Life add-on solution, designed to help you monitor product changes over time. Track visual defects such as bruising or mold in pre-defined increments and a period of time you specify to better understand how the product you are selling holds up over time.

The increase in efficiency of our quality assurance program has allowed us to measure quality data and trends on a daily, weekly, or seasonal basis in a more comprehensive manner than we were able to before working with iFoodDS. We can use that data to make more impactful business decisions. - Greenskin Avocado
